Data transmission, financial institutions:

For the above-mentioned purposes, I acknowledge and accept that Cashflex MultiCredit Sàrl may transmit my application or my data to Cembra Money Bank SA, Bank-now SA, CG24 or to other banks or partner financial institutions (hereinafter referred to individually as «financial institutions») over the Internet, by e-mail, fax, or post. I authorize the financial institution to process and analyze my data for marketing and risk management purposes, and to establish profiles to that extent. I also authorize the financial institution to offer me other products and services, including those of its group companies. Cooperation with intermediaries: The financial institution may, in the event of applications transmitted to it by an intermediary, exchange with the latter the information and data required for the examination of the application and of the creditworthiness and for the conclusion and execution of the contract. Cooperation with service providers (outsourcing). The financial institution may outsource certain services to third parties (hereinafter referred to as «service providers»), in particular with regard to the handling of business processes, IT security and system management, market research and prospecting, the determination of business-related credit and market risks, as well as the management of contractual relationships (e.g. application and contract processing, debt collection, communication with customers). The financial institution provides these service providers with the data necessary to fulfil their contractual obligations and may for this purpose also transmit this data abroad. The service providers, as well as their employees and their subcontractors, are contractually obliged to ensure data protection in accordance with the requirements of the Federal Data Protection Act, to maintain banking secrecy in accordance with the Federal Banking Act, and to maintain confidentiality. In this context, I acknowledge the fact that my data may be transmitted to service providers established in countries which do not necessarily have data protection equivalent to that of Switzerland. I accept that the financial institution can communicate with me or with the intermediary by using electronic means. I also consent to the transmission of data over the Internet and I am aware that the Internet is an open network that is accessible to everyone. I therefore acknowledge that Cashflex MultiCredit Sàrl and the financial institution cannot guarantee the confidentiality of the data transmitted over the Internet. As a result, third parties may conclude that there is a current or future business relationship (where applicable, a banking relationship) between myself and the financial institution. Authorization to request credit information. I confirm the accuracy of all the data concerning me and I authorize the financial institution, within the framework of the examination of this application and the process of the contractual relationship, to obtain information and data about me from third parties, in particular from banks, the Central Office for Credit Information (ZEK), authorities (e.g. debt enforcement office, tax authorities, residents' registration office, child and adult protection authorities), business information companies, credit intermediaries, employers, group companies of the financial institution and, where applicable, Swiss Consumer Information Office (IKO). For the purposes mentioned above, I release these third parties from banking, postal, office or business secrecy. In addition, I authorize the financial institution to report this application to the ZEK and, where applicable, to the IKO and, if required by law, to other third parties. In particular, the type, amount and terms of the loan or financing, as well as the personal data of the applicant and any qualified payment delays or abuses, must be reported. I acknowledge that the ZEK and the IKO are entitled to provide their members with information about the data communicated. I take note that the financial institution may reject my application without providing a reason. Partner data: If I have filled in data concerning my spouse or registered partner (hereinafter referred to as «partner») in the application, I confirm (i) that I have informed him / her of this application, (ii) that the financial institution may verify the aforementioned data directly with my partner, and (iii) that my partner accepts that the financial institution will collect information about him / her (including applications for information from the ZEK) as described above (see clauses 4 and 5). I hereby confirm that I have read the legal information in full and declare that I accept it in all respects.

* I note that the granting of credit is prohibited if it causes over-indebtedness (art. 3 LCD).

Calculation example: Financing CHF 10,000. An effective annual interest rate of 4.9% to 9.9% results in total costs for 12 months of CHF 262 to CHF 520. The final interest rate varies, depending on the situation of each client, from 4.9% to 9.9%. There are no application or additional costs: you only pay the interest on the loan.
